

TCS Stock Analysis Report

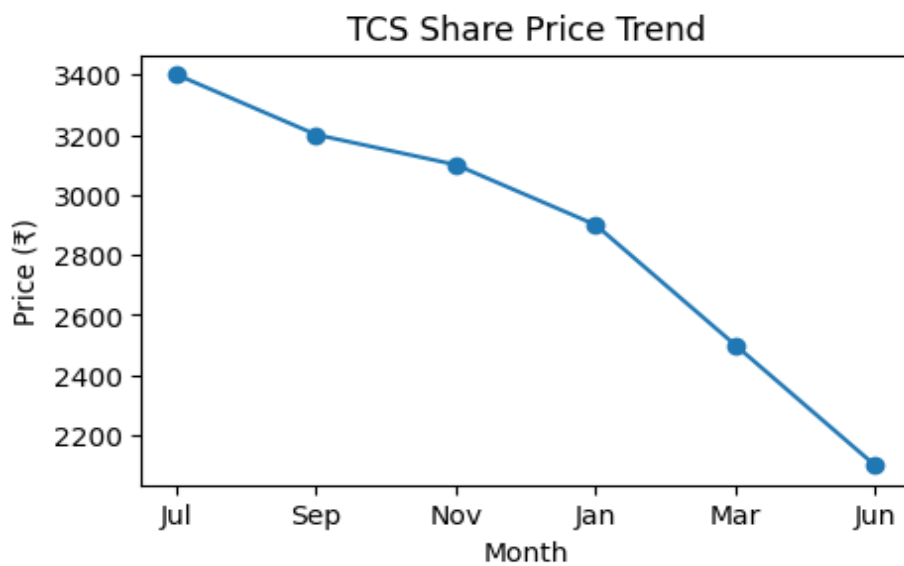

Company Stock Analysis with Graphs

Introduction

Tata Consultancy Services (TCS) is one of India's leading IT services companies. This report analyzes the company's stock performance, valuation metrics, dividend history, and future growth opportunities.

Share Price Trend

The following graph shows the illustrative trend of TCS share price over the last 12 months.

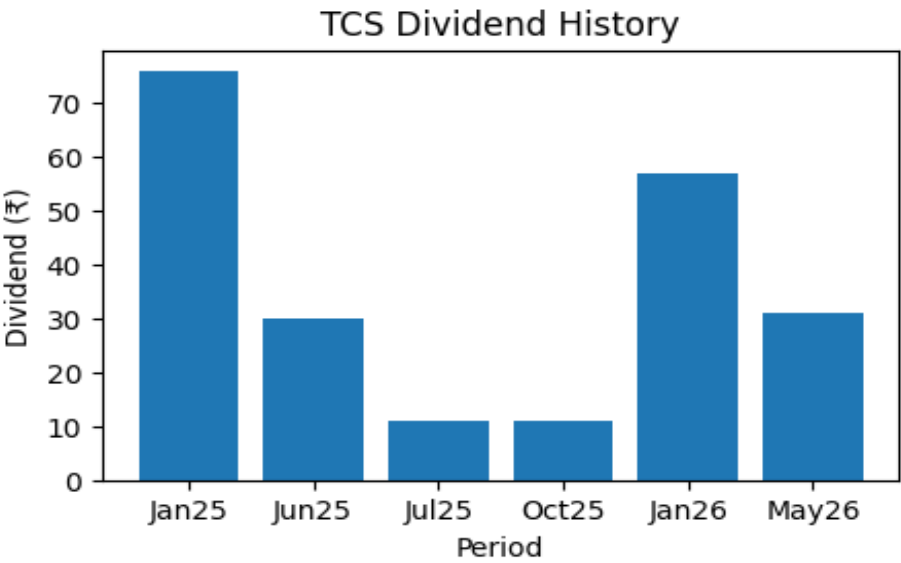

Financial Analysis

PE Ratio: ~15.6
Market Capitalization: ■7.5–7.7 Trillion
Dividend Yield: ~5%
Revenue: ■2.67 Trillion

Dividend History

TCS regularly rewards shareholders through dividends. The graph below shows recent dividend payments.

Future Growth Prospects

TCS is investing heavily in Artificial Intelligence, Cloud Computing, and Digital Transformation services. These technologies are expected to drive future revenue growth. The company also benefits from a strong global client base and excellent financial stability.

Risks

Potential risks include global economic slowdowns, competition from other IT firms, and changing technology trends.

Conclusion

TCS remains one of the strongest companies in India's IT sector. Its strong fundamentals, dividend history, and investments in future technologies make it attractive for long-term investors.